PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

APRIL 2019

Greetings to All,

While sitting at the computer today I heard one of the welcome sounds of spring - my '57 MGA starting up in the garage! That led me down the Google rabbit hole with searches related to British autos and to an article from James May (of BBC's Top Gear fame) titled "James May's 10 Cars that Changed Britain" found at <https://www.bbc.com/timelines/zqhr82p>. He had this to say about the A:

1955 MG A: When we were still good at sport...

Not a radical car but a departure for MG, the A was named – the story goes – for its change from a pre-war upright look to a modern, curvaceous form.

The A was a massive export success, especially to the US. In many ways it is responsible for nurturing the long love affair of the Americans for the small British roadster. It was a template of sorts; modestly powered, small and light and immense fun to drive. Successive cars from MG and the Triumph and Austin-Healey would follow a similar pattern. Ironically, the MG A is rare in Britain. Under 6% went to the home market, making it one of the most exported cars Britain has ever produced.

The sun's out, the day's warming up, and that's all it took. I'm ready to get behind the wheel. And like the outdoor temperature, the number of BBB events is headed upward, too. The events calendar continues to grow with the efforts of Rich Gibson and the Events Committee. Our thanks go out to them, to the many members who have stepped forward to lead an event, and to previous hosts who have offered coaching and advice to the new volunteers. Our club members are exceptional in the way they help one another! Case in point, that car start-up I just heard is thanks to help we received from some talented BBB members last summer.

Also trending upward is the number of member families who now belong to the club. By my count, BBB has had at least five new memberships in the past few months. I know you will make newcomers feel welcome and help them get started with the club. New members are a good reminder to wear your BBB name badge to events and gatherings. I know I'm guilty of letting that habit lapse and will definitely make it a priority in the future.

Now, let's get that British iron (and some aluminum) polished up and ready for the road!

Lo and behold the cold weather broke! Twenty-one club members rolled out to enjoy warmer temperatures and NO ICE - except in their beverage glasses!

The staff at Granite City were outstanding, making sure there were plenty of tables and wait staff to see to our every need on a busy night. It was wonderful to see some of the "Snowbirds" back in their proper roost in the Rockford area! Welcome home!

And I do have to say that Granite City's Cajun Pasta is exemplary! You MUST try this! Thank you to both John and Sandi Ward for organizing and hosting this

FROM YOUR WEBMASTER

Here's a quick run down on activities related to the BBB website since last month.

- Email of potential interest to members -I owned a 1971 midget back in my youth and I am looking for another one. I was wondering if you or your members knew of one or where I might find one. I'm not looking for a show car but rather a good driver that I can enjoy and share with family and friends. Also was wondering if there was a good mechanic nearby because I'm not good wit mechanics. Thanks for the help, Karl Opperman
NOTE: I have Karl's contact information if you want to reply directly.
- BBB events for 2019 have been added to the monthly calendars and are up to date
- We added a new link to the British Transportation Museum in Dayton Ohio to our Favorite Links page

- Coordinated car show related communications with our events chair
- Posted photos from past events

DID - U - KNOW

by Facia Nearside

Benjamin Holt was born in Concord, New Hampshire USA in 1849. He was the youngest of four brothers, all of whom became involved in the family business selling hardwood for wagon and coach construction. These products were in great demand on the west coast and by 1883 all four brothers were engaged in wagon wheel production near San Francisco, California.

Benjamin, who was a gifted mechanic and inventor, was soon making improvements on much of the farm machinery which used their wagon wheels. One of his inventions was a side-hill harvester, a combine which could work on a slope as steep as 30 degrees. While technically a success, the machine was so heavy it required 20 horses to pull it. He realized there had to be a better way!

Traction engines were beginning to take over farm work from horses, a fact not lost upon Holt. However, they were extremely heavy, often weighing 1000 pounds per horsepower. This was a huge problem, especially in Britain where soil is heavy and wet causing traction engines to sink under their own weight. The solution was to somehow lighten the machine or spread the weight out over a larger area, but hundreds of failed tries pointed to the difficulty of conquering this problem.

In 1903 Benjamin Holt traveled to England to study ongoing efforts to produce a crawler-type tractor. Upon returning home he set to work solving the issues which stymied those many unsuccessful attempts. On Thanksgiving Day in 1904 Holt demonstrated his design of the first successful tractor to use a continuous track for traction.

For Britain the timing could not have been better because a few short years later it found itself mired down in the muck and gore of trench warfare. Holt's crawler tractors came to the rescue, replacing horses hauling heavy artillery and other supplies. By the end of the war 10,000 Holt tracked vehicles were in use by Allied Forces, and Great Britain recognized Benjamin Holt for his contribution to the war effort.

After the war Holt concentrated more on road building equipment than agricultural machinery. Benjamin Holt died December 5th, 1920 and five years later the Holt Manufacturing Co. merged with its largest competitor, C. L. Best. Today we call that company Caterpillar.

These are the solutions to the puzzles located on page 17.
