PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

MAY 2019

Greetings!

It's time to celebrate! This month marks the 23rd anniversary of the founding of British Boots and Bonnets Car Club. In May of 1996, the first gathering of about 40 British car enthusiasts was held at Der Rathskeller in Rockford. That number increased greatly at the next meeting and the rest, as they say, is history. Join us as we celebrate the club's founding and longevity at the May meeting.

Very soon Mother's Day will be upon us. I hope all the moms in the club have a great celebration of the special place they hold in their family. Fathers - you'll get your day soon!

Speaking of parents, can you be the parent of a British car? I think we can make a case for it.

We fill them when they're empty and bathe them when they're dirty.

Treat them when they're sick and sigh in relief when all is well.

Put a roof over their heads and protect them from the elements.

Cheer them on up the long hills and hang on when the road is bumpy.

Photograph them (sometimes profusely) and celebrate their awards.

Some of us even give them pet names.

Get together with others to discuss their welfare and future. (We do that on the third Wednesday of each month.)

Here's to remembering and honoring all the mothers and fathers and what they do to nurture and guide their children. It's been said that it takes a village to raise a child. I think BBB is a village for our cars.

See you soon in our "village"!

APRIL'S DINE AT BACI'S KITCHEN ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL EVENT

by Lynda Vickery

Twenty-five BBB members enjoyed the April Dine at Baci's Kitchen & Ristorante on April 10th. The weather was more than a bit "iffy" so there weren't any LBCs in the parking lot! But everyone enjoyed talking about the upcoming driving season and the current driving condition of our cars.

The folks at Baci were very attentive. Taliyah and Alisa were great waitresses, and the manager, Jorge, had everything under control. They have a unique menu with many choices, and everyone enjoyed their meal.

GARAGE TOUR ON 27 APRIL QUITE THE SUCCESS IN SPITE OF THE WEATHER!

by Rich Gibson

Kevin Rachuk hit the ball out of the park with his Garage Tour. We had good BBB attendance, 14 people and 12 cars (if I remember correctly) on a cold, wet snowy day. First stop was at Bob Hanselman's home in Woodstock, IL to view his amazing collection of antique MG's. I had no idea that at one time MG made cars of that caliber. Next stop was "Vintage Sports Cars Inc", again in Woodstock, IL. The owner, Yves, has an amazing mind for solving engineering problems and ability to find & make parts for out-of-production / antique sports cars. Next stop was for lunch at Culver's. No explanation needed. Then we were off to "Small Wonders Micro Car Museum" in Crystal Lake, IL. The owner, Ken Weger gave us a personal tour. The museum consists of two large beautifully done buildings containing hundreds of exhibits, all on Ken's personal estate in Crystal Lake. An amazing place to visit. Kevin, thank you for organizing this tour.

DID – U – KNOW

by Facia Nearside

Thomas Jaffery was producing a bicycle he called the “Rambler” in Chicago, Illinois when he decided to transition into automobile production. In 1897 he established a factory in Kenosha, Wisconsin and began making cars of the same name. So successful was the car that by 1902 one out of every six cars in the United States was a Rambler.

When former General Motors President Charles Nash bought out Jaffery in 1916, the car became the Nash Rambler. Also acquired from Jaffery was the Quad, a very capable four wheel drive truck. At the end of WWI the Nash Quad was the most successful military truck in the world.

In 1937 Nash acquired Kelvinator, the leading manufacturer of refrigerators in the United States. The new company, Nash-Kelvinator, was at the forefront of innovation and introduced numerous new ideas to the automobile industry. In 1938 a thermostat was added, and the Nash “weather eye” heater became the basis of all modern car heaters in use today. Then, drawing from its Kelvinator refrigeration experience, Nash introduced the first combined heating and air conditioning system in 1954. Again this was the forerunner of modern automotive climate control.

Following WWII most American automakers were marching to the tune of “bigger is better”. Nash executives began examining the other end of the market, considering the possibility of producing a small economical car designed to be the second car in a two car family.

Next month: Metropolitan.

CAR ART, INC. 949-443-0500...

MG founder Cecil Kimber, the father of sports cars, was born April 12th, the recent Brexit deadline.

The Sceptered Isle has created the finest and fastest cars ever made...and more marques (500+) than any country, except the USA. In the 1950s, Great Britain was the world's biggest car exporter, and the 2nd largest producer.

The Brits are renowned for two specialty groups: 1. Rolls-Royce and Bentley represent the pinnacle of luxury and traditional, hand-made craftsmanship. 2. Aston Martin, Jaguar, McLaren, Lotus, MG, Austin-Healey, AC, Morgan etc. developed agile sports cars to enjoy the winding country lanes of England, forming the most popular and diverse range in the world.

Experience driving fast, responsive sports cars in this environment proved to be a competitive advantage: British grand prix cars (37) and drivers (10) have won far more F1 championships than any other country. The UK's Motorsport Valley is home to 7 of the 10 Formula One constructors.

Finally, British cars and drivers have smashed the Land Speed Record 25 times, more than any other nation. Reid Railton's designs triumphed for Malcolm Campbell and John Cobb in the 1930s & '40s. Richard Nobel's designs have held the record since 1983 - currently a supersonic 763mph with Rolls-Royce jet engines. MG broke class LSRs with a little 1.5 liter engine: 254mph!

MY INTEREST IN ROLLS ROYCE AND BENTLEY MOTORCARS, WHERE DID IT ORIGINATE?

by Kevin Rachuk

Where did my interest in Rolls Royce and Bentley Motorcars originate? I am sure that we all have a special reason why we are attracted to Rolls Royce cars. For many it may be wanting to have the most luxurious car. A car with the finest workmanship and finish, the finest trimming in high quality leather and hand polished wood work. Others are attracted to Rolls Royce as a status symbol or as an affirmation of success. I am sure we all have our own reasons for loving Rolls Royce and Bentley cars. For me, my life long obsession with Rolls Royce stems from many non related incidences which happened during my youth in the 1960's.

In the 1960's everything English was cool, the Beatles, Carnaby Street, Matchbox and Corgi model cars, to name a few. Therefore; Rolls Royce and Bentleys are automatically cool, however; Jaguar E types, Aston Martin DB5's and a host of specialist built sports cars are also cool. So; it can't just be the English cool factor.

My first encounter with Rolls Royce occurred in the early 1960's. I was with my mother getting dragged to the paper back book store in Ferndale Mi. The local Rolls Royce dealer, Falvey Motors, was located across the side street to the book store. As we were walking up the side street I saw a bunch of old cars (Silver Clouds) parked in the side lot of Falveys. I said to my mother "look at those old cars. My mother replied, "Those aren't old cars, they are Rolls Royces, they are the best car in the world". Immediately the seed was planted. I thought to myself, when I get old enough, I want to buy the best car in the world, I want a Rolls Royce. The image of those Silver Clouds parked in Falveys side lot was burnt into my mind, I remember it like it was yesterday.

After the Falvey incident, Rolls Royce and Bentleys were popping up everywhere. in the 1963 James Bond movie " From Russia with Love" Bond drove a prewar Bentley with a telephone mounted on the Fascia. How could you not want a car with a phone attached to the fascia. From Russia with Love also featured a 1957 Rolls Royce Silver Wraith. In the Bond film "Goldfinger", Goldfinger had a Phantom III Rolls Royce. The Goldfinger Phantom III was significant to me because the car had 2 features that my future car should have. One, the car should have an open chauffeur compartment and two, a fold down table, in the rear compartment to sign your golf bet checks on. I achieved my dream car when I bought my 1939 Hooper Sedan De Ville with the open chauffeur compartment and folding table in the back.

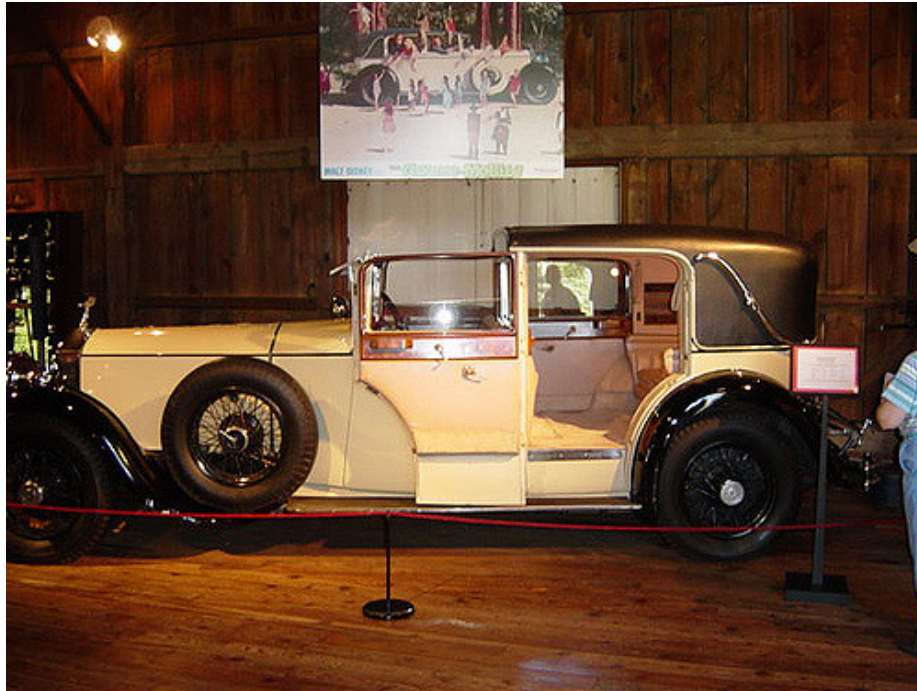

Phantom III Rolls Royce

Two more significant movies, to me, that featured Rolls Royce cars were “the Yellow Rolls Royce” and The Disney movie “The Gnome-Mobile”. When I saw the preview for the movie “The Yellow Rolls Royce”, I had to see the movie. I really did not remember too much about the movie, but; it had a Rolls Royce in it. When I was in California , for the RROC annual meet, several years ago, I met with Neal Kirkham, the current owner of the yellow Rolls Royce, and he gave me a full tour of the car. I also had to see the Disney movie “ The Gnome-Mobile”. About 2 years after the movie was introduced, the oversize movie set of the Rolls Royce was put in the Gilmore Car Museum in Hickory Grove Michigan. In the 60’s you could sit in the oversize Rolls Royce seat and get your picture taken, so you looked Gnome size, I still have those pictures of my sister and I. The movie set is still in the Gilmore Museum, but; you can’t sit in it.

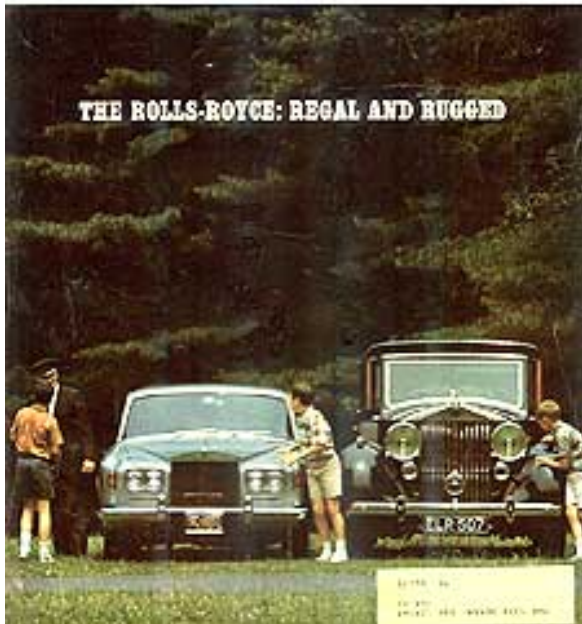

“The Yellow Rolls Royce” movie

“ The Gnome-Mobile”

By the mid-1960's the Rolls Royce seed was fully germinated. Several other Rolls Royce related occurrences confirmed that I needed a Rolls Royce. One of them was the 1966 Calgon Bath Oil Beads TV Commercial that featured a Rolls Royce with a bathtub. (Google Rolls Royce bathtub) At the time, I knew I needed a Rolls Royce with a bathtub. I also saw an article that featured a 1954 Vignale Rolls Royce with a toilet. (Google Rolls Royce Toilet) A toilet was another feature that I needed in my future Rolls Royce, but; will Rolls Royce be able to fit in a bathtub and a toilet? I guess when the time comes to order my car, Rolls Royce will tell me what they can do. After all these years, I never got a Rolls Royce with a toilet or a bathtub, I don't think that feature is that important to me any more. As I stated before, the Beatles were cool and John Lennon had a Rolls Royce Phantom 5 painted with a psychedelic paint job, I always thought that he ruined a perfectly good Rolls Royce. Another feature that I need in my future Rolls Royce is a hot water tap on the fascia, for making tea, as John Steed of the English TV series, "The Avengers" had on his Pre-War Bentley. I never did get a car with a hot water tap on the fascia, however; a couple of years ago, I found a substitute. The substitute is a pre-war, fitted, Fortnum and Mason hamper which contains a silver tea set and burner.

BOYS' LIFE

In October 1967, the Boy Scout magazine, "Boys Life" featured articles about the best car in the world, Rolls Royce. The cover of the magazine featured a Silver Shadow parked next to a Pre-War Rolls Royce. I must have read those Rolls Royce articles a hundred times. These articles are the first articles I have ever read that described how Rolls Royces are constructed. I still have this magazine along with my claret colored Matchbox Rolls Royce Silver Shadow.

That's my story. It is interesting how a series of unrelated events created my obsession with Rolls Royce and Bentley cars. I am sure we all have our own story.

These are the solutions to the puzzles located on page 15.

We have met with Dana at Embroid This and chose several new items for our special Embroid This website which you can find on our BBB Club Website.

I plan to bring 2 or 3 of these samples to our meeting on May 15th for you to see. Embroid This also gave us their newest catalogs - anything from those that you might like can have our Club logo put on at their shop.

I will have grill badges and lapel pins at the May meeting if you would like to purchase them.
